

When Evidence Meets Emotion
Environmental Impact in a time of Climate Change

Ag is part of our national identity

*And in place of lowing cattle, I can hear the fiendish rattle
Of the tramways and the buses making hurry down the street,
And the language uninviting of the gutter children fighting,
Comes fitfully and faintly through the ceaseless tramp of feet.*

*And the hurrying people daunt me, and their pallid faces haunt me
As they shoulder one another in their rush and nervous haste,
With their eager eyes and greedy, and their stunted forms and weedy,
For townsfolk have no time to grow, they have no time to waste.*

*And I somehow fancy that I'd like to change with Clancy,
Like to take a turn at droving where the seasons come and go,
While he faced the round eternal of the cashbook and the journal —
But I doubt he'd suit the office, Clancy, of "The Overflow".*

“It’s not good enough for some people to do some things: everybody has to do everything to act on climate. We have to get governments to make sure everyone is working towards fixing global warming.”

Our challenge

Let us embrace - not fear scrutiny.

Let us be the first to hold the spotlight to our own sector, illuminate our own dark corners and walk forward with pride to balance human emotion with the best available evidence.
